LAWRENCE MEETS LAKE FOREST HERE TOMORROW

Plan To Hold
Straw BallotSenate To Conduct Vote To Learn Student OpinionWHAT THE SENATE DID
TUESDAY

1. Voted to petition faculty for use of three convocation periods prior to national election week, to acquaint the student body with the platforms and principles of the important parties.
2. Suggested conducting a straw vote in convocation prior to election week, to determine student opinion and to aid the student body in its duty to get out and vote.
3. Held preliminary discussion on the all college constitution, dealing primarily with the nature of student senate representatives.

A spirited political campaign before the Lawrence college student body looms as the probable result of the regular student senate meeting last Tuesday, at which the senate decided to exert itself to aid students of voting age in the performance of their electoral duty. It was decided to conduct a straw ballot on the principle candidates, in chapel during the week prior to Nov. 4, and also to petition the faculty for permission to use three days of that week for student speakers, who would present the platforms of the important parties to the Lawrence student body.

The move marks the first attempt of the college governing body to interest students in their duty at the polls, and members of the senate, present at Tuesday's meeting, expressed the hope that future senates would follow the example of the 1928-29 group.

Formal discussion was opened on the proposed all college constitution, the senate members spending most of their time in an effort to determine who and what activities should be represented on the senate.

Student senate meetings will be held every Tuesday evening, in the Lawrentian office, until the constitution is completed, according to Arthur Mueller, and any students interested are invited to witness the meetings. The senate starts its sessions at 7 o'clock p.m.

The appointment of Harry C. Wilson, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, as full time museum assistant with Prof. Rufus M. Bagg, was announced yesterday by college officials. Wilson, who received his bachelor's degree at the state university, will start his work here on Nov. 1.

Carl S. McKee, baritone and teacher of voice at the conservatory, and Mrs. McKee will appear under the auspices of the bureau as "The Little Players". Mr. and Mrs. McKee have appeared together on the lyceum stage in the past.

Herb Heilig Speaks
On Topic of Habits

Making life efficient by developing the right kind of habits, was the keynote of a talk given by Herb Heilig, principal of the vocational school, at convocation Thursday.

"We are nothing more than a bundle of habits," the speaker said, and "these habits are usually acquired unconsciously. Our ancestors pass a nervous network on to us and it is the duty of education to put us into such an environment that the network will be completed quickly and efficiently."

Mr. Heilig pointed out that there is nothing worth doing which does not bring results and that the value of a thing is determined by the good it does. He discussed three habits which should be developed: health, reading, and thinking.

Miss Gertrude Farrell
Presents Song Recital
In Lawrence Chapel

Miss Gertrude Farrell, soprano of the conservatory faculty, appeared in song recital on Tuesday evening, Oct. 16, at the Lawrence memorial chapel. She was assisted at the piano by Mrs. Nettie Steninger Fullinwider.

She opened her concert with a well chosen French selection and closed the first group with Mozart's "Alleluia", which was one of the most outstanding of her performance.

The second group was comprised of four French selections which showed her range, versatility, and loveliness of tone to excellent advantage. "L'Oiseau Bleu" by Decrus and "Chanson Norvegienne" by Foudrain were exceptionally well done.

Her performance rose to its climax in the "Bell Song", an aria from "Lakme" by Delibes. Her nicely finished staccato work showed a rare versatility and remarkable technical control, combined with a truly lovely, lyric tone quality.

The fourth group was a series of songs, oriental in theme, at the close of which she favored with "Red, Red Rose" by Catteret, an encore. The last group included four numbers in a lighter vein followed by "Morning Song" by Gilberte.

Barnes To Enact
Play Title RoleBreen Resigns From Lead; Changes in Cast Announced

Charles Barnes, '31, will play the title role in "The Poor Nut", Sunset players production, in place of Harold Breen, '32, who resigned from the position of leading man. Jack Willem, '31, will take the part of Coach Jackson of the track squad, Arthur Steinhaus, '32, the part of Professor Deming of the botany department, and Charles Wolfe, '30, will double the roles of the official announcer and the starter. Except for these changes, the cast remains the same.

Barnes, as John Miller, will play the part of a simple college boy who is regarded as the college "joke" until he redeems himself. Opposite him, Trudy Weber, '31, plays the role of Margie Blake, and the second feminine lead is played by Irma Molzow, '32, with John Walter, '29, opposite her as "Spike" Hoyt.

Rehearsals for "The Poor Nut" are already in progress under the supervision of Miss Lucille Welty, director.

Ellingboe Elected
Chemistry Club Head

Ellingsworth Ellingboe, '30, was elected president of the chemistry club at the meeting of that organization held Tuesday evening in the chemistry lecture room. Mary McCormick, '31, was chosen vice-president, and Russell Denyes, '31, secretary-treasurer.

"Flames" was the subject of Dr. Florence Stouder's address. She explained and illustrated the production of colored flames, and red, white, and green lights. A miniature chemical volcano was produced and an explanation for its action was given. Miss Stouder then illustrated the extinguishing of oil well fires by an important new method.

Refreshments were served at the close of the talk.

A Galpin's Sons, proprietors of the Winchester store in Appleton, have presented the observatory with 150 feet of rulers.

Vikings Work
For First WinRain Slows Up Rasmussen's
Drill For 'Gold Coasters'

By Jack Rudolph

Smarting under the sting of three successive reversals and refreshed by two days of rest, the Vikings swing into action on Whiting field tomorrow afternoon with Lake Forest furnishing the opposition. Although the true strength of the Gold Coasters is not known, the boys are determined to break into the win column at the expense of the Illinois eleven.

Following last Saturday's game at Northfield, Razz issued an order cutting practice sessions on Monday and Tuesday, giving the men a chance to recover from bumps and bruises and to enjoy a much needed rest. The team has been driven at top speed since the season opened and Rasmussen is taking no chances on his charges going "stale". Rain, which has fallen copiously this week, has made the field a slippery playing surface, but the team has the advantage of being accustomed to it by this time.

Rain let up long enough Wednesday afternoon to allow the squad to resume the training grind, and although the practice field was pretty soggy Rasmussen sent his men through a stiff workout, with intensive sessions scheduled for the rest of the week. If the downpour keeps up, tomorrow's contest will take on all the aspects of a swimming meet.

Lake Forest has not had a chance to prove its strength satisfactorily so far this season, as the Gold Coasters have been turned back in their first two encounters. They were nosed out 3 to 0 in the opener against the Chicago reserves in the last quarter after holding the Maroons for three periods, succumbing only when Staggs sent in several varsity men in the final period. Last Saturday they turned back the rushes of the Carroll Pioneers until the last quarter before going under, 19 to 0.

From all reports the Lake Forest team is a smooth working outfit, as Coach Brown has nine lettermen to build around and a creditable supply of good reserve material. The line is light, and this was a distinct factor in both previous Lake Forest defeats, it is reported.

The Vikings will be strengthened Saturday by the return of Vincent to the lineup after recovering from a wrenched knee suffered last week. "Tuffy", as the Post-Crescent calls him, was out and around Wednesday, and is expected to be in togs Saturday. If Krohn's face heals by game time he will also be in his place on the line.

LAWRENTIAN PLATFORM

1. Greater expression of student loyalty to institutions and traditions of the college.
2. Increased power and effectiveness of the student senate through immediate adoption of an all college constitution.
3. Fair and impartial presentation of news and opinions relating to campus problems and activities.

THE NEW PHILOSOPHY

For the first time since work began on the revision of the all college constitution five years ago a philosophy has crept into the work of the senate, which augurs well for the final completion and adoption of the new constitution within the near future. The senate is approaching its work with an entirely different conception than has been shown by any previous body, and the spirit with which the group has entered the discussion on the proposed legislation seems to assure the student body that the long awaited constitution will at last be forthcoming.

In the past it has been the spirit in the senate that the proper way to adopt a new constitution was to scrap every vestige of existing conditions and start all over, involving radical changes in every section if only for the sake of having the new constitution different from its predecessor, and investing the senate in a lot of unnecessary power. Now, however, a philosophy has asserted itself which is vastly more restrained and sane. Instead of tearing down and building an entirely new structure, a move which has no assurance of success, the senate has taken the stand that the new constitution should be rather a reflection of the present situation on the campus, with the senate empowered to handle only affairs which demand its attention and involving no attempt to usurp powers which it does not need. The constitution, when completed, will be devoid of ostentation, simply worded, and concise in form, and as such will stand as an instrument of the present needs, rather than an attempt to completely change the spirit of the institution.

CHAPEL SEATING

The reception accorded Thursday's chapel speaker by the student body has brought the matter of conduct in chapel to a head. While the conduct of students in chapel has been bad enough for the past two years, it has never before reached the proportions that it has so far this year. Catealls, hissing student speakers, and open disturbances during programs have been common since school opened, and unless something is done about it, the condition seems bound to grow worse instead of better. Neither faculty remonstrance nor editorial protest through the Lawrentian has had any effect in the past; evidently something radical will have to be done.

The suggestion has been made and has been discussed at meetings of both Pan-Prex and Blue Key of the advisability of putting a stop to such conduct through a change in the seating arrangement in chapel. Under this plan, the college would revert to a system at one time in vogue here, which was changed for no apparent reason at all; the system of seating seniors in front, followed by the juniors and sophomores, with the freshmen seated on both sides. The plan has its merits, and will be discussed at length in a later issue. At present the Lawrentian offers it as a suggestion for what it is worth, hoping that student opinion will bring about a plan of action.

Rain has been raising the dickens with football conditions this week, but Razz kept his men off the field during two days of it and the down-pour let up long enough Wednesday to enable the Vikings to get in a stiff practice session. The rest did the fellows a world of good and enabled them to recover from bruises and aching muscles. The squad should be in tip-top shape for Saturday's battle, with the exception of Vincent, who is still running around on crutches.

"Tiny" Krohn will look over the ground carefully hereafter before he rubs his face in it, after his poison ivy attack last week. The husky line-man landed in some of the noxious weeds during a scrimmage near the fence last Thursday, and by the time the team had reached Carleton the next day he was a sight. As soon as the infection subsides he will be in condition to resume play.

Carleton and Cornell, bitter rivals on the athletic field in every branch of sports, are out in front again in the Midwest football race with a victory apiece. Wisconsin members of the league, Ripon and Lawrence, were victims of the two conference leaders. Carleton will play three more league games while Cornell has four more scheduled. One or the other will be eliminated next Saturday, however, when the two elevens meet in their annual game.

Ripon goes up against its second Western conference opponent tomorrow when the Indians clash with Iowa. Carroll also runs into the stiffest competition so far this season when Coe plays host to the invading Pioneers in a non-conference battle. Beloit's Midwest conference season opens at Knox when the Gold and Siwash mix in the latter's homecoming battle.

Interest in the Fox River Valley high school conference race is unusually keen on this campus this year. A great many of the students are graduates of valley schools, and they taken an active interest in the fortunes of their former schools. At the outset East Green Bay, Oshkosh, and Appleton are favored to win the championship, with odds on the Bay eleven. Jake Stoll, coach at Sheboygan, is a former Viking captain.

Favor Sweaters For Two Letter Seniors

'L' Club Will Submit Plan

Ten Men Are Initiated Before Business Meeting

The Lawrence "L" club, at its first formal initiation Tuesday evening, went on record as favoring the awarding of varsity major sports sweaters to eligible seniors at the beginning of their senior year, providing two previous letters in that sport have been earned by the athlete.

The proposal will be submitted to the athletic board, according to Ray Menning, '29, "L" club president. The awards, providing the suggestion is followed, would be given on the assumption that the athlete would earn his major sport letter during his final year, and the sweater should be awarded with three rings on the sleeve.

The senior sweaters would only be awarded to men who had previously earned letters in their sophomore and junior years, Menning pointed out. The awards would probably be merited by only four or five men each year, providing a popular souvenir for the athlete who faithfully serves his school.

Prior to the "L" club business meeting, initiation services were conducted for 10 new members. Those initiated were Gilbert St. Mitchell, basketball and football; Robert Rasmussen, basketball and track; Irving Jackola, basketball; Ross Cannon, track; Frank Schneller, basketball; Jerry Slavik, basketball; Urban Rempel, basketball; Allen Hoffman, basketball; and DeGoy Ellis, basketball and track, all '30; and Kermit Clark, '29, basketball manager.

Membership In Y.M.C.A. Set At Half Usual Fee

Lawrence men may now obtain membership in the city Y.M.C.A. for one half the usual fee, which is ten dollars, through the generosity of a group of Appleton men, including trustees of the college, who have promised to pay one half of the membership fee of Lawrence students for one year. This includes all of the privileges of full membership.

Approximately 100 students have already taken advantage of this offer. The fund allows for the issuing of a few more membership fees. Men desiring to obtain these privileges should see Harry Hanson at the Y.M.C.A. or Fred Trezise this week.

Two Girls Are Hit By Car; Slightly Bruised

Alice Norcross, '30, and Sarah Harrison, a nurse, were hit by a touring car at the intersection of College-ave. and Morrison-st. early Tuesday evening, and were taken to St. Elizabeth's hospital for treatment. They incurred only minor bruises.

Cross-Country Run Results In Tie

In the first cross-country meet of the year, held Tuesday, Jesse, a veteran of last year's team won first place, being closely followed by Roemer, a freshman from Appleton. Mueller, captain of last year's cross-country team placed third. The other members of the cross-country squad followed in order; Bartsch, Scheurman, Heck, Joseph, Kozelka, Ansoerge, Schmidt, Armstrong, Hallet, Staffacher, Melby, Frampton, Peerenboom, Stuelke, Wurtz.

Run Cross Country Jaunt Tomorrow

Winner Will Be Crowned All Campus Cross Country Champ

The annual all college cross country run will take place at 11:15 o'clock tomorrow at Whiting field and will be run over the usual 3½ mile course. Anyone in college is eligible to compete.

The winner will receive the all campus cross country championship medal. Ray Menning, track captain for 1929, was the winner last year, but will probably not compete this year since he has only been out for practice for about a week.

This is the second event on the all campus intra-mural sports program, conducted by Coach A. C. Denny. The first was the all campus tennis singles championship, which was won by Hanson.

Crow Gives Political Talk In Convocation

A talk dealing with the coming presidential election was given by Professor W. L. Crow at convocation Wednesday morning. The speaker stressed the importance of voting.

Prof. Crow told of the yearly decrease in the number of Americans who vote, in the last election that number being only about 50% of the voting population.

Among the remedies suggested for this condition was that of legal compulsion, but the speaker stated that he believed education in the public schools to be the best method of overcoming the difficulty. Meanwhile, court warnings could take care of the present offenders.

Concluding, Prof. Crow said, "The time is drawing near when every one of you who is qualified to vote should go to the polls, and cast your vote for the man best fitted for the office of president."
